A JOHN STORY-Mica McMullen-Los Angeles, CA

They are brothers, uncles, friends and fathers. They are johns. What makes a man risk professional and personal disgrace, and pay women to have sex? A John Story, a powerful 15-minute short documentary, inverts the equation to answer this question. Unlike other documentaries that have grappled with prostitution, A John Story addresses the demand side of the industry. The directors met their subject four years ago and have been chronicling his continued participation in prostitution since. They watch as he navigates through a life filled with lies, fantasies, and desires. This cautionary tale is a reminder to us all that our actions can slowly turn from being part of our lives to consuming our lives entirely and affecting everyone around us.
