A collage of black and white photographs from the 1950s and 1960s. The photos depict various scenes of teenage life: a girl smiling, a boy looking at the camera, a couple sitting at a table, a car (possibly a Ford Mustang) parked on a street, a boy playing a record on a turntable, a boy standing next to a car, a boy sitting at a desk with a typewriter, and a group of people at a social gathering. The photos are arranged in a layered, overlapping fashion, capturing the essence of mid-20th-century youth culture.
